The license is issued for areas up to 1600 hectares. Donors can provide particular assistance with technical support for the development of baselines and socioeconomic assessments, giving particular attention to women and ethnic minorities, and for the design and implementation of appropriate, affirmative interventions to ensure that legislation and initiatives improve and strengthen the rights of these groups. This can take the form of residential, commercial, institutional, recreational or industrial projects.

Thailand's rural development policy choices

In recent years, minor changes in Thai law have allowed nonresidents to further explore the Thai real estate market. We are working harder to advance the quality of education at all levels under the 12th Education Plan 2017-2021 and the National Education Plan 2017-2036. The following licenses are available.
