Circus Book: The Circus Moves By Rail

New York Times, January 30, 1960 The last tent show was on July 16, 1956. The cars used to transport the bulls had solid sides and small windows for ventilation near the top of the car since the elephants were susceptible to pneumonia.

The Circus Train

The Depression took a great toll of circuses and by 1939 only two remained.

Circus train

All equipment had to be torn down, loaded onto the wagon, then transported to the railcar.

The Circus Moves By Rail Summary by Carl Morrison

RBBB also has the very first ten 89-foot TOFC flats ACF built in the late 1960s, numbers 1-5 and five more which had no numbers.

The Circus Moves by Rail (September 1993 edition)
