A Step

A venue not too far from the city with purpose designed and equipped conference facilities. So get your whole team on board.

Gauteng Conference venues, Johannesburg, Gauteng

Experience helps but planning and on-site preparation is the key to success. Some conferences employ an internal process within their steering committees or communities to decide while others such as , , or IUI have had open calls to organise and host the conference in the past. Once you understand the past and what else is happening at the time of your conference next discuss this with your steering committee to understand if there is an expectation of having a discounted hotel rate available for delegates.

Event Planning Guide

And make sure they get all the necessary details and instructions about your conference: venue address, guidelines, contact details, registration advice, and so on.
