Children of South Africa

Armstrong eds , The Legal Situation of Women in Southern Africa 1990 , University of Zimbabwe Publications, 139-164. By 2030, eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.

UNICEF Report Warns the Global Food System is Failing Children

National health insurance provides an important opportunity to ensure universal health coverage and financial risk protection for the poor, as well as to improve the quality of care. In Nepal, girls with disabilities often drop out of school once they reach puberty because there are no support services in school.

Resources

Children should therefore be prioritised within the health care system. However, appropriate treatment through health and mental health services can make all the difference, either by preventing the consequences of violence, or providing early treatment before they develop into serious, intractable problems.

Failures to Protect and Fulfill the Right to Education through Global Development Agendas

Depending largely on where children live, the quality of services that they can access also varies drastically. Yet coverage reaches only one third of pupils in their first year of schooling and 20% of grade 8 learners. Approximately 42% of adolescents in low- and middle-income countries consume sugary soft drinks at least once a day.
