Professional Practice

Every person who practises as a solicitor in Scotland must maintain the standards of honesty, integrity and professionalism that the public and other members of the profession expect. She was appointed as Director of Professional Practice in March 2016. The object of the quest for equality is not to reduce the standards for the profession to the lowest common denominator, as has been suggested, but rather to ensure that all legal practitioners attain a high standard of competence, are treated with dignity and serve with dignity, no matter to which branch of the profession they belong.

Judicial factors: consultation

The change which is desired is change which will improve the circumstances of the people of South Africa and which reflects the values enshrined in the Constitution of our new democratic state. Otherwise, the whole profession, and the public as a whole, is injured.

If you have any questions please contact. He did not make an accurate list of the files he had taken.

Can a successor firm be liable for an original firm's inadequate professional service?

Alongside that duty, the Commission considered the nature of the duty and whether it should be capable of being supplanted and in terms of how the general duty should be carried out, whether it should be qualified in some way.

The Need for Social Work Intervention: A Discussion Paper for the Scottish 21st Century Social Work Review

These recommendations 39 and 40 are made with the intention of ensuring that a judicial factory does not continue indefinitely at the expense and therefore to the detriment of the estate being managed.

When negotiating a Sub-Lease you must take into account the timescales required to enable you to comply with notice provisions and whether you require a buffer to remove any works, not forming part of the Sub-Tenant's obligations or carry out inspections in good time. Each year we appoint independent researchers to survey our members. This unique degree is designed to provide you with key knowledge across all main areas of Scots Law including commercial, property, criminal, family and law of contract.
