The distinguishing brain feature in mammals, including humans, is the more recently evolved cerebral cortex—the part of the brain that is involved in thinking. Although the scanners themselves are expensive, the advantages of fMRIs are substantial, and scanners are now available in many university and hospital settings. The remainder of the text is organized around three levels of analysis, moving systematically from the individual level through , to the level of social interaction through , to the group and cultural level through.

Social Cognition Theory of Group Processes

If we have unpleasant experiences with people from a certain city, region, or country, or a positive relationship with a person who has blond hair or green eyes, we may develop negative or positive attitudes about people with these particular characteristics and attempt to reduce or increase our interactions with them. Therefore, I again limit the discussion to the separate elements models. Victims of groupthink: A psychological study of foreign policy decisions and fiascos.
