Quartetto D'archi No. 3 By Tibor Sarai

Based on the principles of the Viennese Classics it hints at more romantic feelings of times to come. In 2016 the Quartet appeared for the first time in the chamber season of the Accademia Nazionale di Santa Cecilia performing the Quartet K 387 by Mozart and Quartet No 8 op. Mátyás Seiber: String Quartets Nos. 1

The Quartetto Indaco shows lucid precision, concentration and great ability. It calls for flute, oboe, English horn, clarinet, bassoon, harp, and strings. For instance, the independence of the four parts is much greater than in the works of his predecessors, which may be attributable to the fact that developed his skills during a time freed from the hitherto ubiquitous basso continuo. The first movement was written last and contains a good ration of folk-like melodic statements and feel, the first violin spinning a succulent line over throbbing pizzicato.

Aeolian String Quartet

The company has pioneered the idea of the 'series' and proudly includes series of such composers as Prokofiev, Tchaikovsky, Parry, Walton, Grainger, Berkeley and Bridge. The confidence of its handling hardly needs to be remarked upon, but its vitality and changeability is certainly deserving of notice. Instead, with its glissandi and transformative spirit, we get a shimmering sense of the Blues but in a serial context - rather Krenek like, occasionally remote and austere in places.
