Govt in tourism policy inconsistency

Controversy then arose later, once the Samson group had already invested billions of rupees into the resort, over whether the land should have been auctioned by the tourism department or the forestry department, or whether the government should have advertised the lease at 15 years or 33 years. International Civil Aviation Organization ICAO estimates, as of 8 May, indicate that the fall in scheduled international passenger traffic during 2020, will equate to a reduction of between 44 to 80% of international passengers. The crisis is also revealing the crucial need for tourism policy to adopt an integrated governmental approach so that response measures are consistent and complementary to general economic stimulus packages e.
