Revelation 2:5 Commentaries: 'Therefore remember from where you have fallen, and repent and do the deeds you did at first; or else I am coming to you and will remove your lampstand out of its place

The displeasure of foreign powers; that is, of the governing body, or a considerable number of the members of some foreign community or communities, with which the community in question is connected.

James 1 Commentary

We have here an account of those who do not use this glass of the word as they ought: He that beholds himself, and goes his way, and straightway forgets what manner of man he was,. Peace in heaven, and glory on high! Even good people among them shared in the common calamity.

1 Peter 1:7 Commentaries: so that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold which is perishable, even though tested by fire, may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

And this will justify God for ever in their damnation, that they destroyed themselves. Again, as an introduction to the principles of legislation in general, it ought rather to have included matters belonging exclusively to the civil branch, than matters more particularly applicable to the penal: the latter being but a means of compassing the ends proposed by the former. This affective love is necessary.

Jeremy Bentham: An Introduction to the Principles of Morals and Legislation

This blessedness does not lie in knowing, but in doing the will of God. As to the intensity of the pleasures which a man may derive from it, this is never thought of, because it depends upon the use which each particular person may come to make of it; which cannot be estimated till the particular pleasures he may come to derive from it, or the particular pains he may come to exclude by means of it, are brought to view.

Jeremy Bentham: An Introduction to the Principles of Morals and Legislation

Every good gift is from him. The moral, the religious sanctions do so too. His disposition, for all that, cannot, with any pretence of reason, be termed otherwise than a good and beneficent one.
