Supervising Challenging Supervisees Students who are admitted to graduate programs in communication sciences and disorders have successfully passed through a very competitive screening process using a variety of selection criteria such as Graduate Record Examination scores, undergraduate grade point averages, and letters of recommendation. SLT education reflects the scientific and interdisciplinary bases of the profession in medicine, education, linguistics and psychology.

Therapy Innovations

While such evaluations do have some importance, few supervisees have sufficient understanding of the supervisory process to know what to expect of a supervisor. Jean Anderson's The Supervisory Process in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology played a significant role in helping professionals understand the critical factors in supervision methodology and their contribution to the effectiveness of supervision.
