SteamLouis November 10, 2014 I think we should clarify that distribution of wealth and distribution of income are different. For example, Smith 1995a includes vehicle equity but excludes the value of 401 k accumulations in his definition of net worth, unlike Wolff 2000.

Redistribution of income and wealth

Concluding Comments Research suggests that overall differences in wealth among racial and ethnic groups are generated primarily by the financial assets those groups own.

8.5A: Distribution of Wealth and Income

While the availability of data for countries varies over time, the figure illustrates a declining trend in the concentration of wealth between 1940 and today. Those dependent on benefits have seen their income fall not only in relative terms but in real terms as inflation has been actually higher than the national figure for CPI.

The distribution of wealth in the United States and implications for a net worth tax

Including Social Security wealth has an even greater equalizing impact, particularly for Hispanic households--despite their shorter work histories and lower average lifetime earnings Table 1. As income increases, so does housing equity; thus the greatest racial and ethnic disparity occurs in the lowest income quartile Table 3. The authors argue inequality leads to the social ills through the psychosocial, anxiety it creates.

Distribution of wealth and income

Middle-wealth families hold much more of their wealth in home equity, with more modest contributions from retirement accounts, bank accounts, and cars.

Bond ownership is much lower than stock ownership. During this period, the wealth share of the 90th to 99th percentile remained broadly constant at around 37 percent, while the share of the top one percent increased from 23.

That is, for persons under age 62, future earnings from 1992 until the year they reach age 62 are filled with zeros in the calculation of this wealth variable.

Distribution of wealth and income

Black and Hispanic households, as well as Florida residents, are overrepresented in the HRS. Two-thirds of white college graduate households are invested in IRAs and Keoghs, while a little over one-third of black and one-fourth of Hispanic college graduate households are. This is a positive step toward narrowing the wealth divide.
