What to expect from an early years inspection under the new Ofsted Education Inspection Framework

Self-evaluation is optional but Ofsted will expect providers to have quality monitoring systems in place and to address any issues.

DES Inspections

Be willing to share resources. Recorded evidence should be clear, precise, evaluative, and capture facts about the setting.

At Ofsted, we are developing a new education inspection framework EIF for September 2019. The Office Tour is a special free downloadable document provided by Canavan Byrne. But it will consider whether the setting continues to meet EYFS requirements.

Early

Safeguarding Inspectors will always have regard to how well children are helped and protected so that they are kept safe.

From group exercises in breakout rooms to live chat, whiteboards and interactive polls, we use a range of tools and techniques to ensure that you can connect with your trainer; network and share best practice with your peers and leave the day with the skills you need. The inspector was on site for 9 hours This will cause you stress and also filter through to the nursery staff.

What will the education inspection framework mean for the early years?

Make best use of your Local Authority Early Years Consultants and SENDCOs and never be afraid to ask for help.

They may also want to check that the staff for that room present during the inspection are the regular staff and talk to parents and carers of children in that room. Childminders or group providers that do not operate regularly, such as summer play schemes, will usually receive a call no more than five days before the inspection to check which days they are operating and whether there are children on roll and present.
