Velocity Modulated Tubes

However, he then returned to the UK alone; Agnesa, working in what had by then become a highly sensitive subject, was possibly not allowed to leave.

Across the input gap, a time-varying electric field is produced by introducing some radio-frequency energy into the resonant cavity.

An evacuated, dielectric envelope is provided to enclose an electron gun, a pair of grids spaced from said gun, and a repeller electrode spaced from said grids. In 1947, Beck married Monica, a daughter of S. It is, therefore, an object of the present invention to provide an electron-discharge device of the Klystron or reflex Klystron type in which the tube is permanently associated with the cavity resonator so that replacement may be effected merely by removing the spoiled tube from its socket and substituting a new one therefor.

The resonators of each belt are coupled to one another by eliminating the common walls, In the improvement according to the invention, a portion 33 of the outer belt is eliminated and the corresponding cavity resonator 34 of the inner belt is replaced by a special cell in which the front surfaces of the re-entrant portion 35 are solid while the outer cylindrical wall 36 is replaced by a fiat'or slightly concave wall.
