In 1994, the legislature made 1,500 the minimum population required to incorporate.

CITES

It distinguishes itself by providing an international and interdisciplinary platform for the exchange of ideas and information among urban planners, policy makers and analysts, and urbanists from all disciplines. PLACES will allow counties, places, and local health departments regardless of population size and urban-rural status to better understand the burden and geographic distribution of health-related outcomes in their jurisdictions and assist them in planning public health interventions. Austin, Texas, nearly doubled its population, and it continues to see a large number of new residents each year.
