Boundless

Explore a vast universe of connected worlds. Collaborate in a citizen-driven economy where everyone is connected. Open Portals to seamlessly connect your land to friends' worlds, mining locations, populated cities or hub worlds and attract citizens from all corners of the Boundless universe.

Boundless

Riches, mystery, danger and new friends await! The many worlds of Boundless are procedurally generated and rendered using our custom voxel engine in a single online universe across both PS4 and PC. Boundless is an always connected, persistent voxel universe with a brave new art style and tons of fun gameplay innovations.

Boundless

Rally citizens to expand your city, competing to become the capital of your world and claiming the title of Viceroy. Search for Oort Stone and place it to create an entrance, then choose where you want it to go. They are procedurally generated from thousands of different terrain properties and hundreds of block types to achieve giant chasms, towering mountains, twisting alien terrain, floating islands and complex underground cave systems.

Boundless

To become a real master crafter takes time, skill, and a well-built workshop. Create a jaw-dropping structure and charge for entrance, or carve a convenient path through a mountain and charge players a toll to pass through. As you progress through the universe of Boundless your wealth will grow, which will allow you to trade with other players for resources, items, tools and weapons.

Boundless

As Boundless matures more materials will be added, increasing the palette of block types and crafting recipes over time. The next world you visit could be a world of plenty or poverty. Discover and hunt a huge range of creatures across the Boundless universe.
