Connecticut I

As long as there were no barriers between the funded interchange and the next I-95 interchange in either direction, so the driver could exit I-95 without paying a toll, the funds would be available.

Transportation Studies

The Monadnock Region Future, which serves as the Regional Plan, maps out a vision for the future based on an understanding of the Region's assets and opportunities as well as ongoing initiatives and current challenges. Issues that have been analyzed in depth include operational characteristics, infrastructure needs, transit-oriented development TOD, the effects of the alternatives on noise, air, water quality, and cultural and recreational resources, as well as other social, economic and environmental effects, and capital and operating costs. Jodi Rell said she is not pursuing the closure of any interchanges.

ADA Compliance Review Final Reports

The Connecticut Department of Transportation CTDOT, the Valley Council of Governments VCOG, and Council of Governments of Central Naugatuck Valley COGCNV completed this study to evaluate deficiencies and define transportation improvement needs along the Route 8 corridor from Seymour to Waterbury just south of I-84 Interchanges 22 to 30. At first, officials said it would take weeks to repair the bridge and reopen I-95. For more information, please contact of SWRPC staff.
