The Rising Hawk (2019)

He is very fond of a young man, but believes that the security of Tukhli and neighboring villages that is, of his native land is more important than the life of one person. Meanwhile, Burunda Khan faces questions from his warriors about his motivation and military strategy for the impending invasion. The Mongol Empire had grown to the largest the world had ever known.

Zakhar Berkut is a resort and recreation complex located in the heart of the Carpathians

How courageously they lived amidst the inaccessible, primeval fastnesses, high up within the shadow of the mighty giant, Mt. If I have one other minor complaint, it's that it would be nice if a bit more people survived, but oh well. At first glance it would seem they have become more civilized, but in reality all that has happened is that there has been an increase in the population.

The Rising Hawk

In this they helped courage, cohesiveness, wit and even the very nature of their native land. In the summer months, there is a relaxation area with a swimming pool, sun loungers and arbors. Zakhar Berkut is a ski resort and recreation complex located in the heart of the Carpathians, not far from the village.

The Rising Hawk: Battle for the Carpathians

Meanwhile, Burunda Khan faces questions from his warriors about his motivation and military strategy for the impending invasion. What did people like it at the time of its creation? But despite these flaws, the film still gives us a very interesting and rare glimpse into the life in Ukraine in this era.

The Rising Hawk

I don't know which version they watched, the one I watched had subtitles for every single bit of Mongolian dialogue, of which there is actually quite a bit btw, so I can't imagine watching it without subs.
