This guide will teach you how to screen in a porch with a screen framing system and how to stretch porch screen to fit the framework. When screening in a porch, select appropriate for the dimensions of your framework or for any frames that need replacement mesh.

How to Screen in a Porch

Fiberglass provide over 75% of UV protection, by using thicker strands and a closer mesh than regular 18x14 fiberglass window screening. Do-it-yourself screen and frame replacement kits are widely available at hardware and home improvement stores. However, these materials are not generally used for smaller applications such as window screens.
