The Will : A Comedy, in Five Acts. As It Is Performed at the Theatre

I had nothing to boast of; for this same petite partie ended in a very absurd proposal on her side, for entering into the Platonic system, which I positively refused.

The lying valet : a comedy, in two acts, as it is performed at the Theatre

Sir William, I shall ever acknowledge the high est obligations to you; you have drawn me from the verge of a precipice, into which my own im prudence had like to have plunged me—I awake from an illusion, and can dream no more—Be my friend still, this is the only rank that you can ever hold in my regards. Why there now, youse run on at a fine rate, and Ise does not know what youse been jabbering about, this half hour. With which, I suppose, she was miserable for life.

The secret, [electronic resource] : A comedy, in five acts, as performed at the Theatre

Indeed, my dear lady Frankland, you first de ceive yourself, and then argue right, upon wrong principles. You shall hear—That villain Lang wood, my father's steward, who persuaded me into this sham marriage, and personated the clergyman, on that occasion, is now dying, and writes me word that he is distracted, with the horrors of his consci ence, and is determined to ask the young lady's for giveness—a letter from him, to the family, wou'd discover all.

The lying valet : a comedy, in two acts, as it is performed at the Theatre

O these Londoners are cunning folk! Now, if you will tell me, madam, who those people are, that you reckon upon, I shall be better able to judge of your interest with the great.

The platonic wife: a comedy, as it is performed at the Theatre

On 23 July 1781, when Matthew was six and his youngest sister was one and a half years old, Frances left her husband, taking the music master, Samuel Harrison, as her lover.

The school for rakes: a comedy. As it is performed at the Theatre

But persons of quality, my dear, never presume to rebel against the laws of subordination—But this is a political secret, which you are yet ignorant of, child. Western literary study flows out of eighteenth-century works by Alexander Pope, Daniel Defoe, Henry Fielding, Frances Burney, Denis Diderot, Johann Gottfried Herder, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, and others.

The lying valet : a comedy, in two acts, as it is performed at the Theatre

On 3 July 1782, Frances gave birth to a child.

The secret, [electronic resource] : A comedy, in five acts, as performed at the Theatre

In my countré de valet de chambre hava de caffë, de ga teau, ready again de lady sit up in her bed; they carry it to her ruelle, they clap it upon her lap, they tell her de news of de ville, of de compagne, of every ting in de world; they maka her laugh, and put her in de bon humeur for de whole day.
