The Reconciled Life: A Critical Theory of Counseling

Narrative Therapy Narrative therapy is an interdisciplinary treatment model designed to help us reframe the problematic narratives we tell ourselves by using a process called externalization.

Why Your Estranged Child Doesn't Want to Reconcile

This is our opportunity to strengthen the ongoing work of MSJCC. What do we know about infant mental health or pediatric counseling, and are our graduates in private practice specializing in working with children during early childhood? Tjeltveit 2012 , the daunting questions that come as a result of taking psychology as well as Christian faith in a serious manner have to be dealt with. Given the circumstances to which I have had to overcome, a tremendous amount of resolve was required, which enabled me to persevere through my darkest moments.
