How To Get Students to Speak Up: 5 Tips for ESL Conversation Classes

You also might use large poster boards to which students add their thoughts with markers and highlighters or sticky notes. But the students doing the talking are often the ones doing the most learning—so teachers need to find thoughtful ways to encourage reluctant talkers to take part in classroom conversations.

Classroom Management for Adult Students

But that freedom can also be detrimental if you do not have solid time management skills. How we speak off the cuff can have a bigger impact on our career trajectory than our presentations or speeches, because every single day we have an opportunity to make an impact.
