Elizabeth Tyrwhit's Morning and Evening Prayers by Susan M. Felch at Abbey's Bookshop

In 1574, a volume of prayers and poems collected and composed by Elizabeth Tyrwhit was published. Mike Pincombe and Cathy Shrank. The author's analysis provides an authoritative addition to our knowledge of early modern devotional works produced by women, as well as a comprehensive piece of literary criticism in its own right.

This volume presents critical, old-spelling editions of both versions. This volume presents critical, old-spelling editions of two versions of Elizabeth Tyrwhit's Morning and Evening Prayers. Felch convincingly argues that the additional material and revised arrangement of the longer version are likely copied direct from another, no longer extant authorial version, either printed or manuscript.

In 1574, Christopher Barker published a volume of prayers and poems collected and composed by Elizabeth Tyrwhit, an intimate member of Katherine Parr's circle, governess to the princess Elizabeth, wife of a Tudor court functionary, and a wealthy widow. Winner of the Josephine Roberts Scholarly Edition Prize, awarded by the Society for the Study of Early Modern Women in 2009 'The material in Tyrwhit's texts will be of great interest to scholars not only of Early Modern women's writing, but also of devotion, devotional poetry, and the English Reformation. This is true even if the title states it includes any access cards, study guides, lab manuals, CDs, etc.'
