《朝花夕拾》教案分析

IAPA partnered with The Mother Earth Happiness Group to design works from planning, architecture, landscape, interior, to construction documentation. The cultural significance of the site is reflected in the architectural design of the wellness resort. Yin Ma Chuan of the Great Wall — The Seeking the Happiness of Mother Earth Area is the first cultural resort at the foot of the Great Wall of China.

This process reduced the construction time and the main building structure was completed before winter. Permaculture is a system of design principles based on simulating or directly utilizing the patterns and features observed in natural world. CHALLENGE: The most challenging aspect of this project was the construction.
