My Journey to Becoming an Educator

I graduated from the University of Lincoln in 2017 with First Class Honours LLB.

Michael Andrew's Unique Journey In Becoming A U.S. Olympian

The A Journey In Becoming Academic Collection was created with the ideal graduate student in mind! One does not buy a complete full-functional gym for home-use to just do bodyweight exercises.

About

Both in and out of the pool. When I was younger, I was very sporty.

About

And it all comes back to a word that Andrew has used numerous times in interviews this week: purpose. The relief and sheer happiness I felt in this moment cannot be put into words.

The Productivity Collection

I just had to pick myself up and keep moving forward. I did not think I would know how to teach first grade, having only been a kindergarten teacher but it was here that I found an inner strength and discovered the power within.

The Becoming Journey

At school, I was never interested in learning and felt that the only way to entertain myself was to argue with teachers. Between the ages of 3 and 10, I was a gymnast — training 16-24 hours a week.

Rashmi Thakur

But having that Olympic spot locked up, and doing so alongside his family, has already made the experience an incredible one. I was there to be their Ms. I felt stuck, tired, unorganized, depressed, and anxious about my entire life; especially after giving birth to my second child.
