OLD MASTERS GALLERY MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS BUDAPEST SUMMARY CATALOGUE VOLUME 2 EARLY NETHERLANDISH DUTCH AND FLEMISH PAINTINGS

Six years after the opening of the present building of the museum in 1906 the collection was considerably enriched by the bequest of 121 paintings of Count János Pálffy. For instance, on historical public holidays, like March 15, August 20 or October 23, the Museum of Fine Arts is open. Its 100,000-item permanent collection — founded on contributions from Buda Castle, the Esterhazy and Zichy collections — is organized around six sections: Egyptian, Greek and Roman Classical Antiquities, Old Sculpture Gallery, Old Master Paintings 13th to 18th centuries , the Modern Collection, and Graphic Art printmaking and drawings.

Museum of Fine Arts

It is proud to house one of the largest collections of Egyptian art in central Europe along with artworks that cover all the periods of European art.

Museum of Fine Arts

Unfortunately, the paintings were seriously damaged due to the way they were transported and stored, but they were returned to the Museum of Fine Arts.
