Advancing Social Progress and Equality

The illusion that through science humans can remake the world is an integral part of the modern condition. În memoriu adresaț regelui de către tipografi greviști din Lyon în 1571, se insistă că meșterii și lucrătorii sunt adeverați tipografi, făcând cea mai grea și cea mai mare parte a muncii în tipografie, în timp ce majoritatea librărilor și a pretențiilor meșteri sunt mai curând negustori, care procura materialele, utilajele și unelele. Thus, by the beginning of the 20th century, two opposing schools of thought—Marxism and liberalism—believed in the possibility and the desirability of continual change and improvement.
