Time After Time (1979)

SUMMER 1987 5 -continued from previous page days to feel that I'm very effective in front of you. It is subject to change and may be updated periodically. Louis, MO: Women's Self-Help Center, 1986.

Journal 12

Clearly, however, too few programs challenge the appropriateness of women's imprisonment.

Time After Time (1979)

The privilege to smoke is currently regulated in common carriers, no-smoking areas in theaters, hospitals and public buildings, to cite a few.

Former reporter released from MCI

In a state where someone is sentenced to death nearly every week, the backlog resulting from the inability to proceed with executions motivated the Legislature to act. A compliance hearing was held on July 7!On the issues settled in the partial consent decree.

Massachusetts Prison Inmate Search

According to the United States Bureau of Justice Assistance, evaluation studies consistently show that while offenders are participating in adult drug courts, they are less likely to commit crime , and, consequently, states and localities save money on criminal justice system costs. Ross suggests the number is actually much higher. A few days after it ended, I left for a short vacation.

January

At least 60% of women housed at MCI-Framingham under Section 35 have no criminal basis for being housed there. Working in close partnership with the trial court leadership team of Chief Justice Paula Carey and Court Administrator Harry Spence, we are committed to four new initiatives that we hope will assist us in our efforts to solve problems and do justice. Is it time to reconsider this law? Under the consent decree and its State Plan for Compliance, the State of Michigan was to present a plan for adequate mental health care by April 1985.

Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Framingham, Mass. (1955)

The Department of Justice agreed to an extension of that deadline to October 1985. More and more indigent death row prisoners are exhausting their direct appeals, which means that more often, inadequate defense will result in the execution of those who should have received a lesser sentence.
