The Oldest Pubs in London: Historic Pubs You Have to Visit — London x London

Smith have established a circulating library upon a most extensive scale, from which subscribers can borrow and return, at any of their establishments and agents, all the best and leading books of the day.

BOONE TAVERN RESTAURANT, Berea

We now come to the Town of Ramsgate pub, possibly the site of a pub dating back to the 15th Century. Puckridge also informs me, that the wooden figure of the naked boy, put up at Pye-corner, is certainly the original one, for that his grandfather first repaired it.

Hundreds of people were tried for various offences as part of the rebellion and the majority were sentenced to death, although many of the sentences were later changed to transportation.

What's the oldest restaurant you've dined at?

This was in 1749, a few years before the appearance of the ghost.

What's the oldest restaurant you've dined at?

We arrived somewhat stressed after the taxi journey from hell trying to cover 1 mile in London but left much later in a very different and happy frame of mind.

BOONE TAVERN RESTAURANT, Berea

The staff are attentive and very helpful. From an Etching by Hollar.

BOONE TAVERN RESTAURANT, Berea

Just as delicious as we remembered.

bookbinders

Terrace of buildings on the northwest corner of Russell Square. The latter was founded about the year 1710 by the great-great-grandfather of the present partners, Mr.
