The standards of the first two or three levels can be slightly adjusted according to the place. We have the Bhakti Steps certificates available in English, French, German, Portuguese, Polish and Spanish. In Bengal, for instance, where many people find it difficult to give up fish eating, the devotees added one level, between Sraddhavan and Krsna-sevaka, for those who chant four rounds and refrain from meat-eating, but still eat fish.

Most people cannot immediately aim at following all the standards required for initiation. This inspires them to advance more and more. .
